The Power of Three

State-of-the-art technology combined with the extensive experience of a team of three board-certified aesthetic plastic surgeons awaits you at The Austin-Weston Center for Cosmetic Surgery. “We’re able to consult each other and share ideas. This makes us better than the sum of our parts,” notes Dr. Weston. Dr. Sigal concurs, “We consult with each other easily regarding each others’ patients, sometimes even during surgery. This teamwork approach yields better results.” Our patients have instant access to their 50 years of combined cosmetic surgery experience. This instant access to three surgeons, rather than one surgeon, is very valuable to our patients, and is optimal for our doctors as well. This makes The Austin-Weston Center a wiser, safer place to have your cosmetic surgery. Dr. Poindexter noted, “We all contribute to the practice, each lending our individual talents to achieve brilliant results.”

The Austin-Weston Center for Cosmetic Surgery is one of the most respected and established practices on the East Coast. The accredited center boasts an 11,000 square-foot facility with five fully equipped operating suites and a staff of 30. The staff takes pride in focusing on patient safety and providing exceptional care. Several staff members were even patients before becoming employees. Their experience was so positive, that they wanted to work here.

Motivation

“I had reached a point when every time I looked into the mirror I was hit harder and harder by the reflection of a very old lady; unattractive and not feminine. Certainly not the face I expected to see – my face. I saw “tired” when I was actually energized. I saw “angry”, despite feeling calm and relaxed. I delayed going to a consultation for a few years, thinking that perhaps a few more makeup tricks would do it.

I finally went to a seminar on a Saturday morning and I immediately made the appointment for a consultation. It took me a few more months to convince my husband – and myself! – that this was definitely the road I wanted to take.

Both my doctor and his practice manager were warm and reassuring. Using computer imaging and in-depth explanations, they helped guide me through the process. As a matter of fact, my husband also considered having cosmetic surgery done as well.

One key point that was brought up during the seminar and all ensuing consultations was that I was not to expect to look younger. I would look more refreshed & healthier. I was counseled at each visit that I was NOT going to be Michelle Pfeiffer, but rather a better version of myself. Which, realistically speaking, was what I really wanted!”
